SUBJECT:

25X1A

I thought I recognized this item which the  people had mentioned on my last visit out there. At that time they mentioned that one of the unique features of it was a 20 megacycle clock. If you will recall, the question then came to my mind as to whether further advantage, whatever the advantage is, couldn't be improved by the use of a 50 megacycle clock which  has indicated that they have.
